

Updates: Criminal Procedure Monograph 7—Probation Revocation (Third Edition)

Part A—Commentary

7.25 Summary of Procedures for Accepting Guilty and Nolo Contendere Pleas

Effective September 1, 2007, MCR 6.445(F) was amended to conform with language used in MCR 6.302 concerning guilty and nolo contendere pleas. Replace subparagraph (3) toward the top of page 24 with the following text:

(3) ascertain that the plea is understandingly, voluntarily,
and accurately made, and

Part A—Commentary

7.26 Advice of Rights and Understanding, Voluntary, and Knowing Waiver of Rights

2. A Plea Must Be Understanding, Voluntary, and Accurate

Effective September 1, 2007, MCR 6.445(F) was amended to conform with language used in MCR 6.302 concerning guilty and nolo contendere pleas. Near the middle of page 25, change the title of subsection (2) as indicated above and replace the first sentence of the first paragraph in this subsection with the following:

Before accepting the plea, the court must ascertain that the plea is understandingly, voluntarily, and accurately made. MCR 6.445(F)(3).

Part B—Quick Reference Materials

7.42 Checklist 2: Guilty Plea

Effective September 1, 2007, MCR 6.445(F) was amended to conform with language used in MCR 6.302 concerning guilty and nolo contendere pleas. Replace the eighth item in the checklist with the following text:

8. Determine and state for the record that the plea is understandingly, voluntarily, and accurately made.